Good site,

No, amazing website. We have attended Tasty Tuesday several times and love the posts on Instagram!

Yes, the website is helpful. I also appreciate the person who sent out a reminder link every week to share the food trucks that would be attending.

More food truck choices

I don't eat at the food trucks because I cannot afford to do so. But I think the variety and prices are just about right!

There needs to be more clean-up during and after the event and more trash cans available. The trash cans are overflowing the next day and the park/curb/gutters are a mess along Princeton with discarded food wrappers, plates, plastic ware and scraps of food.

This year had a wider variety of food trucks than in the past and I really appreciated that. Thanks!

great for he neighborhood to come together and learn to know each other

Love Facepainterina as well!
